Mireille Kaptein

Managing Director of Kaptein

Mireille Kaptein (born 1972) is Managing Director of Kaptein, the internationally-operating producer of processed and powdered cheese, and packager of cheese and butter, headquartered in Heiloo, Noord-Holland, The Netherlands.

With Mireille Kaptein's appointment as Managing Director in 2009, the third generation of Kapteins took charge of the family business.

Education and work

Before taking over from her father René Kaptein (now 77), Mireille ran the Kaptein Paris operation for a period of five years. She subsequently fulfilled several roles within the enterprise before taking the lead in 2009.

Since her appointment the company has grown substantially. Every year millions of kilos of butter and cheese flow off the Kaptein production line, to be processed into unique end products sold all over the world.

Well known Kaptein brands include Echte Boter, Old Alkmaar en Alkmaars Roem.

Mireille Kaptein is married to husband Anne van Egmond, Kaptein's Commercial Director. She is mother to two 19 and 16 year-old boys.

Personal profile

Committed, loyal, responsible, persistent, positive, honest, decisive, insightful and unafraid to take risks.
